

Saint John Parking and Saint John Transit Commissions announce the departure of CEO

May 10, 2019 (Saint John, NB) – The Saint John Parking Commission and Saint John Transit Commission today announces that its CEO, Ian MacKinnon, will be leaving his position effective May 26, 2019.

“On behalf of the Saint John Parking and Transit Commissions, I would like to thank Ian for his commitment and contributions to both the operations and strategic leadership of Parking and Transit in Saint John,” said Trish Ellsworth, Chair of the Saint John Parking and Transit Commissions. “It’s been a privilege to work with Ian and on behalf of the Commission board, we wish him all the best in his future endeavours.”

For the past three years, Mr. MacKinnon’s leadership has been instrumental in moving the needle on many projects and process changes, all of which have delivered significant improvements to parking and transit services in Saint John. These changes have allowed both operations to maintain and enhance service offerings for the citizens of Saint John.

Marc Dionne, currently Director of Operations-Parking, has been named as the interim General Manager for both Commissions. Over the coming weeks, the Commissions will begin a process to recruit for a new CEO.

About the Saint John Transit Commission

The Saint John Transit Commission was established in 1979 to provide scheduled transit service to the City of Saint John. It is the largest public transit system in New Brunswick in terms of both mileage and passengers. Governed by a Commission, Saint John Transit is dedicated to high standards of customer service through innovative programs and commitment to the community.

About the Saint John Parking Commission

The Saint John Parking Commission is responsible for researching, planning, acquiring, building and maintaining parking facilities within the City of Saint John. Parking is a key component of transportation services that work collaboratively to improve the environment by maintaining a balanced use of parking, transit, ridesharing, trails and green space.
